Levee split nearing?

The nearly dormant plan to split the Metro-East Sanitary District along the Madison-St. Clair county line received the support of a prominent St. Clair County official, East St. Louis Mayor Carl Officer, during a meeting of legislators and officials of the sanitary district here Monday.

At the meeting, sanitary district trustees painted a bleak picture of the district's finances and predicted the day will come soon when the district, in its present form, will be unable to fulfill its primary function—to prevent flooding.

"You're going to go under soon," State Sen. Sam Vadalahe concluded after studying a summary of the district's finances. He asked Russell Robinson, president of the sanitary district, "Why didn't you tell me sooner?"

Others giving careful study to the district's problems included U.S. Rep. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis), State

Sen. Kenneth Hall (D-57th District), State Representatives Sam Wolf (D-Granite City), Monroe Flinn (D-Cahokia), Wyvetter Young (D-East St. Louis), St. Clair County Board Chairman Victor Canty and Col. Robert Dacey, district engineer of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, St. Louis District.

The only conclusion reached, despite the powerful officials present, was that the district's only hopes for survival are either to split the district or to have a tragic flood which would qualify the district for federal and state disaster funds.

Vadalahe stated several times that a split is "inevitable," unless solutions to the district's financial problems can be found.

Price and state officials agreed that an attempt to approve a tax increase for the district would be "political suicide."

Wolf stated, "There is no way in the world the legislature is going to pass a bill for a tax increase. If there were, Monroe (Flinn) would introduce the bill, or Sam (Vadalahe) or I would introduce the bill."

Details on the district's financial plight appear elsewhere in today's Press-Record.

Vadalahe asked if it would be financially feasible for Madison County to support and operate its own drainage district and John Sprague, attorney for the sanitary district, indicated that he feels such a district would be successful.

After the meeting, Commissioner Walter "Shang" Greathouse told the Press-Record that it would require no more than 25 employees to operate a Madison County drainage district. Since Madison County supplies far in excess of half of the tax income to the present district, ample funds should be available to operate a Madison County district.

He also noted there are only three pumping stations in Madison County and more than a dozen in St. Clair County. Madison County could even agree to maintain and operate the North Pumping Station in St. Clair County, which handles primarily water from Madison County, and still have ample funds, Greathouse said.

Congressman Price said there is little hope of a federal bailout of the district, since an amendment to federal law would be required and would apply to numerous taxing bodies throughout the country. "It would be pretty tough to pass an amendment to provide that the federal government would take responsibility for the local share of the costs," Price stated.

The future of the Metro-East Sanitary District is still to be seen, but the lack of optimism at the meeting on its survival seemed to indicate that the worst is yet to come unless new answers are found to the old questions asked again and again.

IT'S NEARLY IMPOSSIBLE to control drainage in the large Metro-East Sanitary District territory with the funds available, area officials are told during a meeting at the district's office in Granite City Monday. Commissioner Walter "Shang" Greathouse, standing at left, points to potential flooding areas if the district's pumps, sewers and equipment are allowed to deteriorate because of lack of funds. From left are Sanitary

SCA will dredge Cahokia Canal

May save area $1 million

SCA Services, which operates two sanitary landfills in the Quad-City area, has agreed to dredge the Cahokia Canal from Horseshoe Lake to National City, at no cost to the Metro-East Sanitary District, it was agreed upon Tuesday.

The work, estimated to save the sanitary district more than $1 million, was approved by the district's board of trustees Tuesday morning. SCA will keep the dirt it removes from the canal and will use it as landfill cover in its landfill on Miller Road, south of Lanyon Road.

Bill Nichols, a member of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, sewers and drainage committee, volunteered his time to negotiate the agreement, and assisted Dale Dille, regional manager for SCA, in presenting the proposal to the sanitary district.

Earlier this year, the sanitary district sued SCA for allegedly removing dirt from a district levee to use for landfill cover. SCA agreed out of court to restore the levee and to pay the sanitary district $100,000 in damages.

Now, according to Nichols, SCA can take sanitary district dirt from where it will do the most good, the walls of the Cahokia Canal, and is welcome to use the dirt for daily cover at the landfill.

He said the work "is badly needed to alleviate flooding of Granite City and below." At the last meeting of the Chamber's sewer and drainage committee, Nichols showed photographs of portions of the canal which are clogged by trees which have fallen in the canal and brush which has grown up on the sides.

"Come the spring floods or heavy rains this fall, we will be in serious straits, unless these problems are corrected," he told the committee.

He told the Press-Record after yesterday's sanitary district meeting, "SCA has agreed to dredge the canal from the box culverts at National City to the flood gates at Horseshoe Lake. Dirt is to be removed from the inner banks and the canal will be tapered in a 'V' shape.

"They will widen the canal, increase its capacity, and will remove limbs, trees, brush, trash and debris, all at no cost to the taxpayers, and they hope to start immediately, while they can still take advantage of good weather," Nichols explained.

He also predicted, "When SCA is done with this job, we sincerely hope they will consider expanding the program to St. Clair County. This is the type of thing which can get our sanitary district out of its present shape and, hopefully, put it in the black."

The sanitary district has been facing severe financial difficulties for years.

SCIENCE LABORATORY vandalism at Granite City High School North this week. Test tubes and corks are shown scattered on the floor, and spigots were opened on bottles of chemicals on the counter. Students responding to the occurrence speeded the clean-up this week and the overall loss is now set at between $6,700 and $13,000, substantially less than the initial estimate.

Students help cope with damage

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Students and staff members responded quickly on Monday to help clean up vandalism at Granite City High School North and only the first class hour was lost. School Board members were told Tuesday night by Principal Gilbert V. Walmsley.

A detailed review of the damage shows costs will vary from $6,700 to $13,000, depending on whether specific equipment can be repaired or will have to be replaced, Supt. B. J. Davis said.

A breakdown of the $13,000 estimate includes $7,264 worth of equipment, $4,695 damage to windows, $1,155 labor to board up the windows, remove paint and clean the school, and $194 for plywood utilized on the windows.

Students were praised for volunteering to put classrooms back in order. They also sought to contribute toward a reward for capture of the vandals but could not do so due to a school district rule against collections from students.

Hundreds more volunteered than could be utilized, Walmsley said. "Their positive response was phenomenal; they were deeply of

Venice may owe aldermen

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

The City of Venice may owe a combined total of $10,000 to the mayor, city treasurer, comptroller, and aldermen, it was disclosed at the Tuesday night city council meeting by Mayor Tyrone Echols.

Echols said to the council, "First, I want to make an announcement regarding salaries of city officials. I am asking the city council to withhold my check as liquor commissioner and I intend to pay back the $200 paid me for August and September.

"I am no lawyer, but I have been reading very carefully the Illinois state statutes and I find that paying me during my current term as liquor commissioner $100 a month may not be legal. It also may have been illegal for me and the aldermen to reduce our compensation (for expenses), which we did in May, 1979, to save the city money.

"We will do things legally and this may end up costing the city some money. He said, adding, "I would like a legal opinion on this from our city attorney by the next meeting, please."

Echols voluntarily cut his expenses as mayor by $125 in May, 1979, and the city aldermen, treasurer and comptroller cut their expense allowance from $200 a month each to $150 monthly.

The question of the legality of paying Mayor Echols $1,200 as liquor commissioner while he is in office was raised by First Ward Alderman Phil Daniels at the last city council meeting.

In other business, Mayor Echols said the city are to receive $85,000 in rehabilitation money for houses. The work was previously approved and the city has been waiting for the money from Madison County Community Development.

The council approved the senior citizens holding a Thanksgiving dinner on Tuesday, Nov. 18, and a Tuesday, Dec. 9, Christmas dinner, both to be held in the Venice Recreation Center and prepared by Voloksi Catering.

The council created a new bond and interest fund in which they will deposit tax monies to repay a working cash fund loan made last year.

The McKinley Toll Bridge report for September, 1980, showed a total of 323,305 vehicles crossed the bridge during the month, an increase of 517 vehicles over September, 1979.

Mayor Echols announced that the Community Development office will be awarding contracts in the near future for the demolition of four structures in Venice—in the 1000 block of Market Street, in the 500 block of Salvator Avenue, in the 1000 block of Bissell Street and in the 1000 block of Calhoun Street.

3-day holiday

Columbus Day will be a three day holiday for many workers.

There will be no mail delivery on Monday, the lobby for box holders will be open from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Regular service will be given on Saturday.

All banks and savings and loan associations will be closed Saturday, Sunday and Monday, opening at regular hours on Tuesday.

All schools, State of Illinois offices, U.S. government offices, and the Madison County court house also will be closed for the three days, opening again on Tuesday.

Madison, Granite City and Venice city offices will be open and most stores will be open with special holiday sales.

The Granite City Press-Record will publish on Monday.

Mitchell firemen's open house Saturday

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Members of the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department are talking with children this week in classrooms at Mitchell Grade School.

The personal visits by firemen with youngsters, to acquaint them with the primary rules of fire prevention and safety, is just one aspect of National Fire Prevention Week, being observed through Saturday, Oct. 11.

To climax the week-long observance, the Mitchell Fire Department will host its third annual "open house" from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 11.

Fire Captain Eddie Lee, chairman of the open house program, said this week that all visitors will be welcome Saturday at the fire station, located on East Chain of Rocks Road.

A demonstration of rescue techniques following a simulated automobile crash with the extrication of victims will be among the highlights of the day's activities.

Fire engines, emergency vehicles and other firefighting and lifesaving equipment will be on display at the firehouse throughout the day.

Youful guests will be greeted by "Sparky," the firehouse dog, and will receive plastic fire hats and other mementos.

Souvenirs also will be given to adult guests visiting the station.

Capt. Lee said the simulated auto accident will be staged with the firemen exhibiting various rescue techniques at 1 p.m. Saturday.

At 2 p.m., the firefighters will demonstrate the use of foam, which usually provides a delight to youngsters in the crowd.

Visitors may have their blood pressure tested throughout the day and films will be shown, Capt. Lee said.

Refreshments will be served and the public will have an opportunity to patronize a bake sale and bazaar, sponsored by the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary.

The volunteer fire protection group was formed in 1945 with seven members.

It formally became a department in 1949 upon establishment of a Mitchell Fire Protection District and the organizational charter calls for 25 firemen.

Current strength of the force is 24 men.

Although still manned by volunteers, the department continues to maintain its around-the-clock lifesaving services to area residents.

Since construction of Interstate 270 and the influx of a heavy flow of cross-country traffic adjacent to Mitchell, the calls for rescue assistance have vastly expanded in just a few short years.

The department is headed by Fire Chief Lee Paul.

Robert Sander serves as department president and Gene Reinhardt is secretary-treasurer.

SERVICE APPRECIATED. Pat Busch, right, committee chairman of Boy Scout Troop 5, presents an appreciation award to Treasurer Jack Small, who is moving to Washington, D.C. Small has been active with Troop 5 for four years and has two sons in the troop.

Most landfill plans rejected

Since 1973, when it first started keeping records of permit denials, the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has rejected an average of 59 percent of landfill development applications.

"This is contrary to the popular belief that the agency grants permits in wholesale quantities," Thomas Cavanaugh Jr. said last week. He is manager of the Residual Management Section, Division of Land and Noise Pollution Control.

Cavanaugh said records show that in fiscal 1974, which began on July 1, 1973, 62.6 percent of applications were denied; in fiscal 1975, 51.5 percent were denied.

In 1976, 60.8 percent were denied; in 1977, 56.4 percent; in 1978, 75 percent; in 1979, 61.8 percent; and in fiscal 1980, which ended on June 30, 56.9 percent were denied.

In all, 901 applications to develop landfills were received, with 381 permits issued and 550 denied.

"For the most part, denials were based on unacceptable hydrogeology, incompleteness of data, and land use considerations," Cavanaugh said.

"However, denial rates will be decreasing in the future because applicants are self-eliminating the unacceptable locations."

"Today, with the state's strict criteria for landfills, applicants are becoming more sophisticated in quality-siting, and re-apply for permits."

Lead in old paint still poses hazard

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

A pinhead-size chip of lead-based paint eaten by a child each day over a prolonged period of time is enough to cause lead poisoning.

Unfortunately, there are no early-warning symptoms to the illness known as the "silent menace."

A child suffering from lead poisoning may not appear to be sick until symptoms such as convulsions develop. And one-fourth of the children who suffer convulsions will develop permanent brain damage.

The ingestion of chips of paint and bits of plaster containing lead is recognized by health authorities as the primary source of lead poisoning in children.

Although lead-based paint for interior use has not been sold for more than 40 years, some older homes and buildings still have paint and plaster which contain dangerous amounts of lead.

The Illinois Department of Public Health has worked closely with health departments for a number of years in screening children for lead poisoning.

This year, for the first time, the state personnel will conduct tests throughout Illinois in a laboratory-equipped mobile van. The van will be made available for short-term, carefully targeted testing programs.

The van was assigned to the state by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Its use should significantly increase the number of children who can be screened for this potentially serious health condition.

"Although the number of cases of abnormal blood levels varies from place to place, the problem exists in many parts of Illinois—anyplace where children live in or around old buildings with flaking paint or plaster."

Elevated blood lead levels can be detected before symptoms occur by analyzing blood obtained through a simple finger stick.

When a child has an elevated blood lead level, the state health department secures the cooperation of the local agency to ensure that the child is seen by a physician for necessary treatment.

The suspected building or dwelling of the child is inspected by means of an X-ray fluorescence analyzer for detection of lead in the walls. The owner of the building is then required to eliminate the hazard.

Through the testing program and the elimination of lead hazards, people in the health field have been able to eliminate lead from the "diets" of thousands of Illinois children—and prevent the needless tragedy of permanent brain damage to innocent victims of apathy and neglect.

Those who want more information about lead poisoning, or about the screening program, may write to: Illinois Department of Public Health, Childhood Lead Poisoning Control Program, 535 W. Jefferson, Springfield 62761.

Church Women United set 1980-81 programs

The fall meeting of officers and church representatives of Church Women United met in the parlor at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, Dolores Allen, president, distributed the new by-laws and policies to the representatives of Quad-Cities Churches who were present. Churches sending representatives included Bethel A.M.E., Central Christian, First Presbyterian, Nameoki Presbyterian, Niedringhaus United Methodist, St. Margaret, Mary, St. Elizabeth, St. Marks, St. John's U.C.C., St. Peter's U.C.C., Third Baptist, Trinity United Methodist, and Nameoki United Methodist.

The CROP chairman reminded the group that Health Kits being supplied by Church Women's groups in the community will be collected at Wednesday Community Day. These kits are designed to help teach hygiene in schools and clinics in the third-world.

The blood program's semi-annual drive will be held at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, Dec. 29, 30, 31, it was announced.

Also noted was the home visitation program has a need for volunteers to share concern for 29 home-bound individuals and the Friends in Learning program at Webster School has 14 tutors who work on a weekly basis with individual students under the guidance of the school principal and teachers.

Church Women United continue to cooperate with Hospice in its volunteer program and are reminded that this month is the first birthday of that organization.

committed to providing 60 layettes in 1980, Mary Ohlendorf, chairman of the layette program, announced that to meet this commitment, the participation of women in all churches is desperately needed. Infant sweater sets are in very short supply and money is needed to buy materials for gowns and receiving blankets. Churches, groups, and individuals can contact Mrs. Ohlendorf at 931-2139.

The following slate of officers for 1981 was proposed: Dolores Allen, president; Mary Hooks, vice-president; Marie Isenberg, secretary; Mildred Jungels, treasurer; Evelyn Toltiver, nominating committee.

Members are making preparations to host the District Meeting in March 1981 and in December, 1981 Church Women United throughout the world will celebrate their 40th birthday. Their commitment is to continue a participation in community service.

The next board meeting will be held on Oct. 21 at 1 p.m. at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Auto hits man in parking lot
Floyd B. Liniger, 59, of Collinsville, was injured last week when struck by a car while walking in Granite City Steel's Nash Street parking lot.

He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, treated for pain in the back and was released. Driver of the vehicle, Gary B. Bogovich, 25, of 2 Riveria Drive, told police he was blinded by the sun while turning into the lot from 20th Street and failed to see Liniger. No charges were filed.

Arrest woman after scuffle with officers

Helen J. Cavaness, 30, Bunker Hill, Ill., was charged with assault, criminal damage to property and disorderly conduct following an alleged scuffle with police at 2:25 a.m. Tuesday.

National City officers brought her to Granite City and told police here that they found her walking along Route 9, banging on windows and buildings. She said she lived in West Granite, the officers said.

They also alleged that while they were bringing her to Granite City, she became loud, threatening and abusive in her language and kicked at one officer.

When Granite City police attempted to talk to her, she allegedly was loud and refused to be quiet and leave the area. When Patrolman Jim Reader told her she was under arrest, she allegedly pulled away, fell to the ground and kicked and swung her fists at officers. Reader was kicked several times while putting her in a squad car, he reported.

Officers also allege she damaged the squad car door by kicking it from the inside, springing its hinges. Police then handcuffed her, it was related.

At the booking window, she allegedly threatened officers and was loud and abusive. She was put into a jail cell. Later, police heard her screaming and found she was bleeding from the back of her head. A windbreaker was found tied to a high bar and officers believe it had been tied around her neck when she slipped and fell, striking her head on lower bars.

She was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was transferred to an Alton hospital, according to official sources.

2 GUNS ARE STOLEN

An automatic gas-powered, 12-gauge shotgun worth $600 and a 22-caliber blue-steel revolver worth $40 were stolen from a gun rack at the home of Chester Miller, 2150 Delmar Ave., early this week. One door was forced open and the glass in an interior door was broken to gain entry to the living area.

GC study of airborne diseases

A study will be made this month and in November and December of potential airborne diseases here. The analysis of possible epidemic hazards will be made by Rockwell International for the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The Granite City Board of Education gave permission Tuesday night for a trailer, a ten-meter meteorological tower and an electric power pole to be installed on the South High School campus adjacent to tennis courts near Peeling Road and State Street.

The six-foot trailer will be equipped with air monitoring instruments. A temporary seven-foot-tall chain link fence will surround an 18x26-foot area. At the end of the three-month epidemiological study, the site will be restored to its original condition.

"The monitoring operation will pose no electrical or radiation dangers. Costs will be paid by Rockwell, and the school district will be assured of bearing no costs," Supt. B. J. Davis said.

J. D. Bryant, business manager of Rockwell's Environmental Monitoring and Services Center, Creve Coeur, said his company "indemnifies and holds the school district harmless on any and all claims, expenses or liabilities for injury or damage to any person or property, nor will the district be liable for damage to Rockwell property resulting from any act of vandalism."

DEMONSTRATION SET
Sunday, members of Fort De Chartres Coureurs de Bois will host a free demonstration of puzzle-loading flintlock firearms. Loading, firing, cleaning, accuracy and all aspects of the weapons will be discussed and demonstrated. French trade muskets, Brown Bess, Charleville, Lancaster County rifles, and Swivel-Breach are just some of the types to be demonstrated. Mulled cider will be served. Everyone will be invited to fire a flintlock. The event will begin at 10 a.m. Sunday at Fort De Chartres, four miles west of Prairie du Rocher on Highway 155.

STRUCK BY VEHICLE
Tammy Minder, 11, of 2301 Lee Ave., suffered minor injuries when she was struck on the back by a trailer mirror mounted on the station wagon of Coy Frye, 2253 Lee Ave., in the alley between the 2200 blocks of Lee and Washington avenues at 8:55 p.m. Monday. She was taken by her mother to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

The Farm Fresh convenience store operated by Mr. and Mrs. Otis (Lorna) Hinson at 2230 Pontoon Road is celebrating its 12th year at that location today. The Hinsons opened the store Oct. 9, 1968.

Prior to moving to Pontoon Road, they operated the first Farm Fresh store on Nameoki Road, which at that time sold basically just the Farm Fresh dairy products. That was the first Farm Fresh store in the area. Although they still feature Farm Fresh dairy products, the store on Pontoon Road has approximately 4,000 items in stock. The operation is a family affair as their son-in-law, Peter Nasir, works with them, Mr. Hinson explained.

Madison administrators in Springfield Tuesday

By MICK STRANGE
Madison Superintendent of Schools, John Palchiff and Assistant Superintendent Wade James met with state education officials in Springfield Tuesday to review guidelines on attendance record keeping.

Last week, the school district was criticized by Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron for allegedly inflating attendance records at several schools, including the high school, to increase the state aid paid to the district during the current school year and the past two school years. Byron ordered the district to "cease and desist" submitting the inflated attendance records to the state as well as ceasing the purchasing of equipment without using proper bidding procedures specified in state law.

The Madison administrators met with Ronald Reguly, audit manager of the Illinois Office of Education (IOE) and other members of the audit section. Reguly headed the audit of the district's attendance records.

The amount of money allegedly overpaid by the state to the school district and the proposed method of repayment has not been determined; however, according to Palchiff it could run as high as $200,000.

Palchiff did not elaborate on the guidelines, stating he wanted to review them with the Madison School Board first.

"What we had would be termed an exit interview with the IOE auditors. After we review what we discussed in Springfield, we will meet with State's Attorney Byron."

"Following the orders of the state's attorney, we will have our plans formulated and meet with him by Wednesday, Oct. 15, which is the date he set," Palchiff said.

The Madison School Board has a regularly scheduled meeting on Thursday, Oct. 16. Palchiff said he did not know if the board would want to call a special meeting before the 15th or not.

"I believe the method of keeping attendance figures the state has suggested will make an accurate audit very simple for everyone," Palchiff explained.

Bidding procedures that were questioned by Byron were not discussed Tuesday in the meeting with IOE, according to Palchiff.

Skate session Monday at rink

A special skating session will take place from 1 p.m. until 3:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 13, at the Wilson Park Ice rink, since schools will be closed for the Columbus Day holiday. Regular admission fees will be charged.

Also on Monday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., residents of the Granite City Park District may obtain identification cards at the Wilson Park office.

The plasticized cards cost $1 each and enable the individual to participate in park district activities at reduced rates, including ice skating.

Proof of residency, such as a current utility bill receipt, must be shown at the time the ID card is issued.

fended by the damage to their school."

School Board members also discussed a reward but cannot use school funds for such a purpose. They urged a thorough investigation and said destructive vandalism affecting costly school facilities cannot be tolerated.

The district has $5,000 deductible insurance. A burglar alarm mechanism at North failed Sunday night, and a study is being made to determine the cause of the failure.

Helping limit the loss was the fact that it was possible to remove spray-painted graffiti from school walls without damaging the original surface paint.

Ronald F. Landman, maintenance supervisor of the school district, told the board, "The main areas of damage were two science rooms, the library and book room, the vocal music room, the room used by the cheerleaders, and the cafeteria. Front windows by the office, all thermopane glass, were extensively damaged, and paint was sprayed throughout the building."

"The alarm system was turned on but did not operate; an alarm was not connected to the dialer and so could not call the police."

A discussion brought out that the original burglar alarm was modified about two years ago to connect with a new police alarm network, and the current method relies on links between equipment provided by two companies.

Landman said the damage to the building consisted of four 650 thermopane windows, each $5-$10; five 300 thermopane windows, each $5-$15; a 595 office door glass; two 525 classroom door windows; a 520 classroom window, 7x17 inches; six 24 windows in the band practice room; and three 335 windows, located in Rooms 322, 314 and 325.

Equipment items needing repair or replacement include a $4,782 machine for printing and reading microfilm, two analytical balance scales worth $700 and $825, a $500 electric typewriter and a $200 stereo cassette deck.

A $5,000 baby grand piano in the vocal music room was spray-painted and some of the keys were broken with a hammer, but the repair is expected to cost only $150, Walmsley said.

Known losses include four broken thermometers worth $48 each, 12 broken flasks totaling $66 in value, a $14 pocket calculator, a fire extinguisher that sustained $10 damage, a $50 auto harp sounding board, 140 candy bars worth a total of $15 and intended for football concession sales, plus keys valued at $1.

It is expected to cost $10 to repair broken locks on three metal wardrobes. Spray-painted messages referred to certain teachers. This and the apparent familiarity with many areas of the building have convinced officials that perhaps two or more students were responsible.

There was no connection between the vandalism and students who decorated the halls Sunday evening for 1980 homecoming activities; all were under supervision, and the building was secured in good condition at 6:20. A custodian discovered the vandalism when he reported for work at 5:30 a.m. Monday, Walmsley told the board.

Board Member David Partney said he inspected the damage after going to the school Monday. He said he learned of the vandalism from a street conversation, and urged that board members be contacted by administrators in the event of major damage to a school.

Board Member George E. Moore commented that such damage to a building is of serious concern and that "something needs to be done" by the school district to reduce the possibility of a future incident.

Supt. Davis cited "excellent cooperation by the police department, school personnel and students" and said comprehensive studies of the occurrence are being made. Moore and Board Member Thomas Miosky suggested that further board action await compilation of additional facts.

Patty Morris, Dave Carnahan are queen and king at North

Patty Morris was crowned Granite City High School North homecoming queen and Dave Carnahan was named king Wednesday evening during coronation ceremonies, following the homecoming play.

The queen, king and their court will be presented again tonight after the play, "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." Curtain time 8 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium on the GCHS South campus.

Queen Morris, 17, is the daughter of Mrs. Nora Morris, 2440 Waterman Ave. She is the North Student Council President, a member of the Silver Spirits and Future Secretaries of America and she is a varsity football cheerleader.

In college, she plans to major in accounting. "I was really surprised when I found out I was the Queen. I want to thank all my friends at North who made this all possible," Queen Morris said.

King Carnahan, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carnahan, 2515 Hemlock Ave. He is in the advanced vocational program at North, studying auto mechanics and plans to continue his education by attending a trade school after graduation.

His hobbies are hunting, fishing and working on cars.

DNRS potluck set Friday

The Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society will host its annual potluck dinner on Friday at 6:30 p.m. at the YMCA.

A special program on "The History of Our Area" will be presented at 7:30 p.m. by Francis Judd, a longtime resident and knowledgeable of the early years in this area.

In conjunction with the program there will also be a complete portfolio of pictures of the early days of Granite City provided by the Granite City Public Library on display.

Anyone interested in attending the dinner and meeting are advised to call Viola Favier at 451-1331 or Arlene Scott at 730-3361 for reservations. The DNRS will furnish meat for the meal, according to officers of the organization.

Abducts GC girl, 5, released near home

The abduction of a 5-year-old Granite City girl and her subsequent release not far from home were reported to police at 9:55 a.m. Tuesday.

The child was walking from home along an alley, between Cleveland Boulevard and Delmar Avenue, to a relative's house nearby when a black car stopped and a man grabbed her by the arm, pulling her into the vehicle and forcing her to lie down on the front seat before he drove away, she told her mother.

The girl said the man didn't touch her and didn't say too much. A short time later, he let her out of the auto on 22nd Street, between Edison Avenue and State Street.

The mother told officers she watched her daughter walk into the alley and then saw an auto back out of the alley.

same alley on to 22nd Street, and head east. She said the man driving the car leaned across the front seat and rolled up the passenger side window as he passed her residence.

She was not aware that her daughter was in the vehicle at this time, she told police. A few minutes later, the child came running along 22nd Street and told her mother what had occurred.

The mother said the auto which had backed from the alley was a 1972 or 1973 black Dodge Charger. The vehicle had Missouri license plates and its rear section was slightly elevated.

She described the man driving the vehicle as between 25 and 30 years old, dark shaven, with brown hair.

Police are continuing to investigate the incident.

South begins spring student registration

Spring registration has begun at Granite City High School South and will continue until noon on Thursday.

11 Guidance department counselors are now registering current seniors. On Friday, Oct. 10, the counselors will visit junior English classes and then register juniors Tuesday, Oct. 14, through Tuesday, Oct. 21.

Sophomore English and oral communication classes will be visited on Wednesday, Oct. 22, and then the sophomores will be registered Thursday, Oct. 23, through Friday, Oct. 31.

Freshmen English classes will be visited by the counselors on Monday, Nov. 3, and freshmen will be registered from Nov. 3 through Wednesday, Nov. 12.

All students are given a registration sheet to take home for the parents to sign and returned to the counselors.

Man caught after chase

Edward L. McDaniel, 34, of St. Louis, is being held in the Madison County Jail today, pending the posting of $3,000 bond on charges of obstructing a peace officer, unlawful use of a weapon and aggravated assault.

He also has four traffic tickets in Venice and two traffic charges in Madison. McDaniel allegedly was holding his girlfriend at gunpoint in Eagle Park Acres at approximately 2 p.m. Wednesday after allegedly shooting at her earlier in the day, according to the woman.

When a Madison County Sheriff's deputy was questioning the man, who reportedly was very uncooperative, the deputy went to his car to radio for assistance. McDaniel jumped into his car and fled.

The deputy then pursued him, according to official reports.

Radioing for assistance, Madison city police set up a road block at Race and Washington streets. Madison police saw the black 1975 Cadillac coming west on Race Street at a high rate of speed.

Tickets costing $2 for adults and $1 for students will be available at the door.

Junior Miss Pageant Sunday

By VALERIE EVENDEN of the Press-Record
Don Dare, KSDK-TV news broadcaster, will serve as master-of-ceremonies at Sunday's Granite City Junior Miss Pageant, which is announced today by Sharold Yount, director.

The public pageant will take place at 6:30 p.m. Sunday in the auditorium at Granite City High School South.

Tickets, costing $2 for adults and $1 for students, may be purchased at the door.

Twenty-one candidates from both Granite City high schools will compete in the contest, designed to find and honor the most representative high school senior girl in the community.

The contestants are: Gay Elizabeth, daughter of Albert Glenn and Lois Wright; Donna Elissa, daughter of Don and Lena Wilson; Kelly Dawn, daughter of Frankie and Eleanor Vaughan; Michelle Renee, daughter of Rufus and Shirley Valencia; Sandra Ellen Tudor, daughter of Kenneth and Kathleen Reed; Karen Lynn, daughter of Kenneth and Joanna Spencer; Lia Lynn, daughter of Terry and Marge Salem.

Loretta Joyce, daughter of Dennis and Joyce Rutledge; Julia Althea, daughter of Owen and Marlene Ross; Ellen Delene, daughter of Robert and Betty Rogers; Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Ronald and Margaret Pennell; Cheryl Lynn, daughter of Larry and Donna McIlroy; Deborah Kay, daughter of Kenneth and Paul Lewis.

Mary Margaret, daughter of Mrs. Mary Peggy Koepfer and the late Arthur Koepfer; Theresa Lynn, daughter of Clarence and Linda Hutchings; Lila Lea, daughter of Leon and Mary Lou Hudson; Theresa Lynn, daughter of Homer and Linda Harp; Desiree Michelle, daughter of Stephen and Gail Gargac; Janet Renae, daughter of Joseph and Wilma Fox; Karen Irene, daughter of Milford and Mary Cook; and Laura Lynn, daughter of Russell and Carol Chappell.

The winner of the Granite City Junior Miss title will advance to the Illinois Junior Miss state finals in Bellingbrook, Ill., scheduled Dec. 6 and 7. She also will receive a $2,000 scholarship to Huntingdon College in Montgomery, Ala., and a $500 cash scholarship, among other gifts.

Junior Misses are judged on the same basis and standards at all levels of competition—local, state and national.

In all aspects, the judging seeks to determine the representative high school girl, the well-rounded individual with personality, poise, promise and perception to serve as an able spokesman for her generation.

Thirty-five percent of the girls' total points toward victory are accumulated in the judges' interviews.

Scholastic achievement, youth fitness, poise and appearance each comprises 15 percent of the total points, and creative and performing art represents 20 percent.

Five judges will determine the overall winner in Sunday's pageant, with an additional panel of five judges conceived with the scholastic abilities of the candidates, Mrs. Yount advised.

The five principal judges are: Dee Dee Swafford, director of John Robert Powers School of Fashion, Finishing and Modeling, who is widely known for her television appearances in St. Louis. She has produced and sponsored Junior Miss pageants in Illinois and Missouri and has judged over 300 pageants.

David C. Ryan, Division general superintendent for Amtrak Railroad, who is a marketing management graduate of Central Missouri State University at Warrensburg, Mo., with his wife, Dianne, and their three children, holds membership in the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and is active in the Presbyterian Church.

Edward J. Boes, president of Wolff's Clothiers in St. Louis, a subsidiary of Hart, Schaffner and Marx, is a graduate of Rochester Institute of Technology in Rochester, N.Y. He and his wife, Pat, and their two daughters reside in Des Peres, Mo. He is active in civic affairs, including the Missouri Athletic Association.

Sugar Smith, a graduate of Southern Illinois University with degrees in speech education, has taught at Fontbonne College, Lindbergh High School and Mount Vernon High School and Junior College. She is director of the 1980-81 Grand National Show Production Corp. Champions and has instructed many state, national and world champion baton twirlers and strutters. She and her husband, Philip, and their two daughters live in Maryland Heights, Mo.

Robert W. Wickman is vice president of Construction Management for Sverdrup Corp., a St. Louis architectural and engineering firm. He is a graduate of Washington University holding degrees in architecture, engineering and design, and a member of the Smithsonian Institute and Washington University Alumni Association and an associate member of the IDRC. He and his wife, Pat, and their children reside in the St. Louis area.

Scholastic judges for the pageant are:

Beverly Terry, program director at Venice High School, a graduate of McKendree College and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Opal Harvey, East St. Louis retired registrar, a graduate of Lincoln University, West Virginia, and the University of Illinois; Jean Walsh, Belleville High School registrar, a graduate of SIUE; Edmond Schmalbach, Collinsville High School counselor, a graduate of SIU at Edwardsville.

In addition to the presentation of candidates and their part in the contest, several entertainment segments are planned, according to Mrs. Yount.

Vocalists will include Ann Corbett and Jill Lockhart, accompanied by Pam Dubnick at the piano. All three girls are involved in the Southern Express Swing Choir at South High School, have won awards and have performed at area schools and the Elks' Lodge.

Phil Baker, 21, a vocalist, composer and musician, who has performed at previous Junior Miss pageants and played guitar for Cleophus Robinson Jr., St. Louis recording artist and choral director.

Ray Alan Yount, 16, son of Ray and Sharold Yount, who won the Boy's World Championship twirling award this year at Notre Dame University. He has held the Illinois state championship for boy's twirling for eight years, holds over 600 trophies and has appeared in television commercials, on TV shows and in numerous parades, at homecomings and for civic groups.

Heather, 14, and Holly, 6, daughters of Phil and Sugar Smith of Maryland Heights, Mo., are accomplished baton twirlers.

Heather was crowned Miss Pre-Teen Majorette of America last year and holds more than 50 titles and 500 trophies. She has won the state twirling and state strutting championships and state Miss Majorette title for several years.

Holly, who already has won 82 trophies and several titles, is a member of the state, national, world and grand championship Sugaette Baton and Drum Corps and is the mascot cheerleader for Pattonville (Mo.) Junior High School. She belongs to the AFTRA and has appeared in several commercials for business firms, such as A&W, McDonald's Restaurants and Venture. Master-of-Ceremonies Don Dare joined KSDK-TV as a news broadcaster in November 1979 and promptly won the Missouri Broadcasting Award for investigative reporting in 1980.

He is a U.S. Army veteran and served as broadcast officer for the American Forces Vietnam Network in Saigon.

Dare has won National Press Club and San Francisco State Broadcast Media awards for a 15-part series he produced, and numerous other honors during his career which started in Rocky Mount, N.C. He has worked in Nashville, Tenn., and Miami, Fla., and is a graduate of the University of Georgia and North Carolina Wesleyan College.

The television newsmen is a native of Pennsylvania and grew up in the Philadelphia area.

As well as the principal awards to the pageant winner, the next four runners-up will receive a $50 U.S. Savings Bond.

Other gifts include dinners, flowers, soft drinks, tacos, hamburgers, ice cream, photographs, gift certificates, music and a course in modeling, all he produced by area merchants.

Each of the 21 girls will receive a sash and a trophy, Mrs. Yount said.

Groundbreaking at Marquette High

Groundbreaking ceremonies for a new addition and improvements to Marquette High School in Alton, Mo., were scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 18, it was announced Tuesday by Sister Rose Marie Moran, principal.

Construction is to start immediately on an addition to include four classrooms, a library and a locker room. Improvements to existing buildings will be made while construction is in process.

The project was made possible by more than 3,000 individuals and businesses pledging $21,391, toward a goal of $1.1 million. Of that amount, $430,000 has been received so far. The balance is expected to be received in 1981 when the three-year pledge payment period ends.

The addition and improvements to existing buildings are expected to relieve overcrowded conditions and correct violations of the Illinois life safety code. Other improvements, aimed toward energy conservation, also will be made.

Spilled milk causes crash

About 12 cases of milk spilled from a Missouri milk truck on the pavement on Johnson Road near Nameeki Road was blamed for an accident which resulted in injuries to two women Monday.

Police said the auto of Claudine Willoughby, 32, of 2821 Edwards St., was turning left from Johnson Road into the southbound lanes of Nameeki Road when it slid on the milk, went out of control and struck a utility pole on the west side of Nameeki Road.

The driver and a passenger, Kwi Payne, 31, of 3305 Lydia Lane, suffered minor injuries and were taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

A Granite City Fire Department pumper washed the milk from the pavement. Authorities are attempting to contact the dairy involved in spilling the milk.

THEFT IS CHARGED

Joseph M. Quinn, 2236 Edna St., was arrested at the Granite City Hall Monday and was charged with a misdemeanor count of theft. It is alleged he stole some lawn chairs from a pickup truck jamper at the Moose Lodge, 19th and Adams streets, May 25.

Two Democratic judicial candidates unopposed Nov. 4

MOSES HARRISON

By BILL WINTER
OF THE PRESS-RECORD

What is the best way to run for elective office? From the viewpoint of a candidate, the answer is one word: Unopposed.

Enjoying that luxury Nov. 4 are Madison County Circuit Judges Moses W. Harrison II and A. A. Mateosian, who won Democratic nominations in March for appellate judge and circuit judge, respectively. No Republicans are on the ballot to oppose them.

Harrison actually appears on the general election ballot twice. He is seeking reelection as a circuit judge on a non-partisan basis, as well as running as a Democrat for a ten-year term in the Fifth Appellate Court District.

The Collinsville resident already is serving as an appellate judge by appointment. When he is elected in the appellate district, he will resign as a circuit judge, creating a vacancy.

Harrison, 48, was elected as a circuit judge as a Democrat in 1974 after serving at that level by appointment beginning Sept. 4, 1973. He became chief circuit judge in July 1978, and was named to the Fifth Appellate District bench effective in September 1979.

As an appellate judge, he is completing the term of George J. Moran, Granite City, who retired in 1979 after having served on the appellate bench since 1964. When selected, Harrison commented, "It's the greatest professional compliment I've ever received to have the Illinois Supreme Court appoint me to serve in the place of George Moran, an outstanding jurist."

Married and the father of two children, Harrison attended Collinsville schools and earned a bachelor degree in 1954 at Colorado College, majoring in political science. His law degree was obtained from Washington University in 1958.

While attending college and law school, he did restaurant work, drove trucks as a Teamster, and made concrete blocks.

He maintained a law office in Collinsville for 15 years until being named as a circuit judge replacing the late James O. Monroe Jr. His grandfather, Dr. M. W. Harrison, was a pioneer physician in Collinsville and served as mayor for many years. His father, Dr. Clarence Harrison, retired after a longtime dental practice.

Upon succeeding Judge Moran, Harrison said he would continue to maintain the appellate judge-office in Granite City—aided by a secretary and two law clerks—because much of the Fifth District litigation originates in the Quad-Cities and surrounding area.

The district comprises 37 counties and its headquarters city is Mount Vernon. Noting that his decision against moving the local office would avoid taxpayers having to pay for relocating the office and law library, Harrison commented:

"Judges should not divorce themselves from the needs and understanding of the public. It is important for the courts to be aware of the problems and concerns of the people. I can best do this by maintaining my office in the local metropolitan area, where many of the people involved in the litigation of the courts are living and working."

While he was chief circuit judge, Harrison emphasized efficient jury utilization and efforts to reduce the backlog of criminal cases.

He commented, "Although the courts are an integral part of our government, they also are an integral part of the totality of government. Consequently, they must cooperate and function harmoniously with the local, county, state and federal governments, as well as the diverse agencies and administrative bodies that interrelate with the courts."

"The last stronghold of liberty for the individual is in the courts. And for a democratic system that is stable, we must have courts that are respected by the people."

Just as in the case of Judge Harrison, a prospective court vacancy is developing related to Judge Mateosian, 43, a Granite Cityan.

After winning a hotly-contested Democratic primary battle to gain nomination as a circuit judge in Madison County, Mateosian was chosen by the Illinois Supreme Court to become a circuit judge a half-year earlier than scheduled.

As of July 1980, he replaced Judge Harold Clark, who had resigned in April to become an administrative law judge with the Social Security Administration in Peoria. Clark was the last Republican circuit judge in the Third Circuit.

On Nov. 4, Mateosian is the Democratic nominee to fill a vacancy created by Judge William L. Beatty's appointment as a federal judge. Following Mateosian's election next month, the Clark position will reopen in December, at the same time the Harrison circuit judgeship becomes vacant.

Born and reared in Granite City, Mateosian is married and the father of two children.

Upon graduation from high school here, he was employed as a laborer and foundry worker at the Commonwealth steel plant. He next attended barber school and worked his way through college as a barber.

He attended the University of Illinois and Southern Illinois University for undergraduate study and graduated in 1964 from the Washington University School of Law.

After practicing law for a short time, Mateosian was appointed an associate judge in 1965. He has served as a trial judge throughout the past 15 years.

In 1977, he was appointed to a circuit judge vacancy created by the resignation of John Gitchoff. Defeated for circuit judge in the 1978 election, Mateosian then was reappointed as an associate judge.

Mateosian's successful race for circuit judge this year was aided by retired Appellate Judge Moran, who said, "An appellate judge is in a unique position to measure not only the quality of legal scholarship and the soundness of the judgments of a judge, but also how hard he works. We didn't get many cases from the judges who didn't do anything."

"In my opinion, Andy Mateosian is a highly intelligent, highly qualified judge who deserves promotion to the office of circuit judge."

Judge Mateosian's philosophy is that "criminal cases should be disposed of quickly. If the defendant is guilty, that should be decided quickly; if he is innocent, that also should be determined promptly."

"The prisons are overcrowded, but there are certain defendants who just have to be warehoused. Rehabilitation in many cases has not worked. Ineligible defendants have to be kept off the streets; you have to look at the safety of society."

Although he believes some major civil cases should not be tried immediately—"in personal injury suits, you want to let those injuries stabilize"—he is an advocate of rapid handling of most court cases.

"The traffic, juvenile, family and misdemeanor divisions of the circuit court are overloaded. There's nothing wrong with assigning circuit judges to try the major cases, but there also is no reason why they should not help out in all the divisions," Mateosian comments.

A. A. MATEOSIAN

Workshop on compensation

The Illinois Industrial Commission will offer three workshops on 1980 changes in workers' compensation laws and other aspects of the system.

The commission, which adjudicates workers' compensation disputes in Illinois, is co-sponsoring the workshops with the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs and the Department of Labor.

The day-long workshops are scheduled for: Edwardsville, Tuesday, Oct. 21; Springfield, Thursday, Nov. 20; and Elgin, Tuesday, Dec. 16.

"These will be 'working' sessions, not just lectures," said Rebecca Schneiderman, chairman of the Illinois Industrial Commission.

"We want them to be as useful as possible for everyone who has to cope with day-to-day with workers' comp—workers, business people, physicians, insurance companies and attorneys."

"We'll look at the changes enacted this session by the legislature, but we won't stop there," she said. "We'll examine the entire workers' comp process."

"We'll look at how each of the different actors in the process functions in relation to one another. We'll give special attention to the way improved communications among the various parties can make the system function more efficiently."

Joining her as workshop leaders are: Warren Eagle, an attorney with Katz, Friedman, Schur and Eagle, a firm which represents employees before the Industrial Commission.

Vandals wreck tires in GC area, Madison

Vandals were busy in the area last week with numerous reports of tires being punctured turned in to police Thursday.

Most of the damage in both communities apparently was caused by ice pick wielding vandals.

Paul Caban, 1302 Edwardsville Road, reported Thursday that all four tires were punctured with a sharp tool or ice pick on a 1968 Volkswagen, 1976 Cougar, 1973 Triumph, a 1966 MGB sports car and a 1966 Volkswagen.

Jeff Rose, 2005 Fourteenth St., reported two tires on his 1972 Caprice were punctured by mail. Debrah J. Nomm, 2024 Fourteenth St., had tires damaged on a 1974 Ford and a 1973 Grenlin.

Debrah J. Nomm, 2024 Fourteenth St., said two tires were punctured on her 1976 Dodge; Kenny Smith, 1301 1/2 Edwardsville Road, said four tires were damaged on his Dodge Charger.

Lillian Phillips, 1233

Edwardsville Road, reported damage to four tires on her Dodge Dart; and Mrs. Eurrell Rushing, 2065 Thirteenth St., said two tires were punctured on a 1978 Plymouth Volare.

Madison police said 17 vehicles were damaged in reports received Thursday by their department. All involved tires being punctured, with several of the incidents occurring on Elizabeth Street.

Mexican commission auxiliary discusses Christmas party

The Women's Auxiliary of the Mexican Honorary Commission held its September meeting last week at the Commission Hall, 1801 Spruce St. The meeting was called to order at 2 p.m. with 15 members present. Lisa Garcia, president, stated that the auxiliary now has approximately 37 members.

Prizes of $10 each will be awarded to the winning member present each month. The president said that a member must have worked at least three fundraising functions to be eligible for this prize, and must be present to win.

A discussion was held regarding the various charitable organizations in this area. Mrs. Ruby Ybarra reported that Club Member Donald Valencia had approached her regarding a donation for the Christmas baskets to be distributed at the annual party held by the Mexican Honorary Commission.

Members present voted and decided that donations would be made this year to the Salvation Army Tree of Lights, Our Lady of Guadalupe and the Christmas baskets. A decision was made to split the donation to the YMCA with the Auxiliary's parent club. It was also decided that a full scholarship would be awarded next year.

Plans for the annual Christmas party on Saturday, Dec. 13 were finalized. The festivities will begin with dinner at 1 p.m. with Santa arriving at 4. The Terry DuBois Band will play from 7 until 11 p.m. This year, non-members are invited to attend at a cost of $5 per person for all day or $2.50 per person for the dance only. The menu this year will include ham, chicken and homemade sausage.

A motion was made that the time be changed from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. for the regular monthly meetings. The motion was carried and the next meeting will be Oct. 26, at 2 p.m.

The $10 prize was won by Mrs. Rose Grim.

Baptist Nursing School open house

A nursing life conference for men and women interested in entering the field of nursing will be held Sunday, Oct. 19, at the Missouri Baptist Hospital School of Nursing multipurpose room at 2 p.m. The hospital is at 3015 N. Ballas Road, St. Louis.

Information about the school will be given, including prerequisites necessary to enter nursing, the cost involved, and available financial aid, will be discussed.

A tour of dormitory facilities and the hospital will follow a video presentation.

Moose Lodge fetes Virgil H. Singler

Virgil H. Singler, who has attained the status of pilgrim, the highest degree of the Loyal Order of the Moose, was accorded special honors at the Granite City Moose Lodge 272. He received the pilgrim robe early this summer in ceremonies conducted at the House of God at Mooseheart, Ill.

Walter Anders, governor of the local lodge, opened the ceremony by introducing Marvin L. Kaus, regional director from Mooseheart, and Stephen Davis, herder of the Southern Illinois Legion of the Moose 101.

Sergeant-at-arms Malford Morris escorted the pilgrim honor guard to their positions for the ceremonial. Guard members included William Hanks, Otis Logan, Robert West, Charles Ritter, Charles Morehead, Oliver Baker, Edward Chastain, Carleton Shellbarger, Frank Bello and Clifford Hebert.

Moose Governor Anders presented the gavel to Kaus who continued the ceremony as Davis escorted the honoree to the podium.

During the formal program Singler passed the honor guard and was presented to the prelate station where the secretary of Wood River Moose Lodge 1340 Pilgrim Anthony Payne was holding the station. He then advanced to the junior governor station with Pilgrim Roy Luckemeyer attending the station and continued to the junior past governor station where Pilgrim Jack Pentland, past state president Illinois Moose Association was attending.

The guest of honor then preceded to a position where the pilgrim robe was brought to him carried by his grandson, Jody, and the Tah carried by the governor's daughter, Debbie Anders.

A resume was read on the accomplishments of Singler in the lodge, state, Legion of Moose, and district by Pilgrim Chastain.

Pilgrim Singler introduced his family and thanked Karen Anders and her committee for providing decorations in the lodge and on the tables.

Each woman attending the ceremony received a corsage made by Vernie Von Nida and the men were given a printed ribbon created by Mrs. Margaret Davis.

Lodge Governor Anders introduced the officers of the lodge and Senior Regent Clara Johnson of the Women of the Moose, Chapter 247, presented her corps of officers.

Other dignitaries present were John Elliott, deputy supreme governor Southern Illinois Moose Association;

Fred May, District 10 president and North Moose in Legion 101; Eldon Henson, conservation chairman Southern Illinois Moose Association and District 10; Elmer Dintelman, secretary Mascoutah Moose Lodge 815, secretary District 10 and membership chairman Southern Illinois Moose Association.

Also Walter Spier, secretary Cahokia Moose Lodge 423 and South Moose in Legion 101; Olen Henschel, District 12 president; Richard Moseman, District 9 president; Mark Pries, prelate District 10; Douglas Dyckus, membership chairman District 10; Deputy Grand Regent Fern Pentland, Women of Moose; and College of Regents from several chapters.

Daniel Partney, Madison County Board member and Nick Petrillo, treasurer for City of Granite City, also attended.

A buffet was prepared and served by George, Marian and Pat Lipscomb, to approximately 300 people.

Cash removed from safe; boy charged

A 15-year-old boy who allegedly removed $400 from a safe at Reeb's Dairy, Johnson Road and Terrace Lane, last week was arrested at the dairy and faces a possible juvenile charge of theft.

A clerk said the boy, who spends quite a bit of time in the dairy told her the candy counter needed refilling and when she went into the storeroom, the boy removed a stack of money from the safe.

The boy left the store and the clerk noticed the money was missing. She looked out and saw him at the edge of the parking lot and called out for him to come back, she told police.

He returned to the dairy and waited until police arrived. They searched him, but found no money. They then checked the parking lot and found the money underneath a car on the lot, near Terrace Lane, officers said.

The boy was released to his parents and was instructed to see the police juvenile officer this week.

TELEVISION STOLEN

A black and white portable television set valued at $104 was taken from the home of Rolland Rodger, 2032 Omaha Ave., according to a report by the owner last week.

BRIDE ELECT. Miss Kimberly Harr, fiancée of Michael A. Francis of Glen Carbon. Their engagement is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Harr of St. Louis. A Jan. 24 wedding is planned.

Francis-Harr engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Harr of St. Louis, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kimberly Renee to Michael Anthony Francis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Francis of Glen Carbon, formerly of Granite City.

A graduate of Lindbergh High School, Miss Harr also graduated from Hickey Cooperative Honors Program in 1978. She presently is working at the St. Louis Post Dispatch as an administrative assistant-executive secretary.

A 1973 graduate of Granite City High School South, her fiancée earned a bachelor of science degree from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale in 1979 and a master of science degree from SIUE this year.

He is now and employed as an Environmental Control Engineer at Rocketdyne Division of Rockwell International, Los Angeles, Calif.

Plans are being completed by the betrothed couple for a Jan. 24 wedding.

Joy Circle hears Mrs. Jackie Brown

Mrs. Jackie Brown gave a lesson taken from the book, "Habitation of Dragons" by Keith Miller, followed by a discussion on Christian faith at a meeting Thursday of Joy Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Members met in the home of Mrs. Joni Karantjeff, 1312 Twenty-seventh St.

Mrs. Edna Stinch opened the session with a reading of "Just Thinking" followed by the business segment.

She announced the general meeting will be Thursday at the church with the youth department presenting the program.

Other events included the Church Women United World Community Day at Niedringhaus Church will be on Nov. 7, and the "hanging of the green" at the church is set for Dec. 7.

The lesson of the Least Coin was read by Mrs. Lynn Worth and a collection was taken.

Also discussed was the annual November church bazaar.

St. Peters Guild fellowship dinner

The Collinsville Chapter of Sweet Adelines presented a musical program at a fellowship dinner at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ hosted by both the Afternoon and Evening Guilds.

There were 30 members and guests attending the fall event.

Tables were decorated with centerpiece of autumn flowers arranged in a variety of antique containers.

The Sweet Adelines, with several members from Granite City, under the direction of George Holtzcher, recently won the Regional Chorus competition in Phoenix, Ariz., in November of 1980.

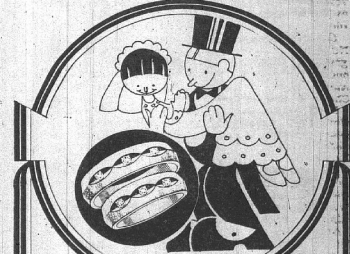

At the present time the chorus has 58 active members singing 4-part barbershop harmony. Members represent Collinsville, Granite City, Edwardsville, Troy, Highland, and Vandalia, Ill. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday evening at 7:45 p.m. in the Collinsville Building and Loan, it was announced.

Holtzcher added, the chorus is busily preparing for the annual show entitled, "Cinderella A Capella," to be held at Webster Junior High School in Collinsville, on Oct. 18 at 8 p.m. and on Oct. 19 at 2 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door, he added.

The Afternoon Guild was in charge of the dinner and the Evening Guild arranged for the entertainment.

Donaldsons announce second daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Rich Donaldson, 169 Big Four Place, have selected the name of Desiree Misty for their second daughter, born on Sept. 27 at Oliver C. Anderson Hospital, Maryville.

The new arrival weighed five pounds, 15 ounces. She has a 17-month old sister, Crystal Dawn.

Grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Will Bailey, Granite City, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Donaldson, Mitchell.

Christened at St. Michael's

Christopher Michael Lairmore, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Lairmore of Webster Groves, Mo., was baptized at St. Michael's Archangel Church in Shrewsbury, Mo., last week.

Mrs. Lairmore will be remembered as the former Joy Gasparovic, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew (Joyce) Gasparovic Sr., of Granite City.

The infant was born Feb. 19, 1980, at St. Mary's Health Center in Richmond Heights, Mo. He weighed seven pounds, seven ounces.

The Lairmores have another child, Michelle Eileen, who is 4 years old. Serving as godparents were the infant's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Mark (Sharon Gasparovic) Hanne of Chesterfield, Mo., formerly of Granite City.

Christopher's paternal grandparents are Ernest and Katie Lairmore of Memphis, Tenn.

First child for Mr., Mrs. Hanne

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hanne of Chesterfield, Mo., formerly of Granite City, are announcing the birth of their first child, a son, on Sept. 29, at St. John's Mercy Medical Center in Creve Coeur, Mo.

The infant has been named Todd Andrew Hanne. He weighed seven pounds, five ounces.

His mother will be remembered as the former Sharon Gasparovic, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mathew (Joyce) Gasparovic Sr., reside at 9 Napa Ave.

The paternal grandparents are Mrs. Dorothy Hanne, 2025 Manley Ave., and the late Ralph Hanne.

Spaghetti dinner set for Oct. 12

The Italian-American Club, which is celebrating its fifth year anniversary, will sponsor an Italian spaghetti dinner at the Granite City Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave., on Sunday, Oct. 19.

Tickets costing $3 each are available from any club member or at the door on the day of the event, or by calling John Svezia at 876-5008.

Serving will begin at 11 a.m. and continue through 6 o'clock in the evening, with carry-outs available.

The menu includes meat balls, spaghetti, salad, dessert and a drink. Children under 4 years old will be admitted free, according to club officers.

Women's Aglow meet Monday

The Women's Aglow meeting scheduled for Monday, Oct. 13, will convene at 6:30 p.m. for dinner at the Edwardsville Holiday Inn.

Guest speaker, Lois Nelson, will address the group at 7:30 p.m. Her husband is the Rev. Gordon Nelson, pastor of the Rock Church in Granite City.

Mrs. Nelson has taught elementary school for 14 years and was principal for a Christian school in Memphis for one year.

Rev. and Mrs. Nelson have two daughters, both married. One daughter is involved in a singing ministry with her husband.

Area women are invited to attend and may make reservations by calling 831-6015, according to the announcement by officers of the Aglow organization.

HANDICAPPED GROUP

Glen Bettoff is forming a club for persons confined to wheelchairs. The purpose is both social and civic. He said that by banding together, the enactment of laws and programs aiding the handicapped can be accomplished, such as acquiring ramps in buildings and on street corners.

Persons interested in the group may telephone him at 452-5185.

Lutheran annual congregational dinner held

The Rev. Jack Robinson, executive director of the Senior Citizens' Service Center, Edwardsville, was the featured speaker at the annual congregational dinner of Our Lord's Lutheran Church, Collinsville.

The dinner was the yearly kick-off for the parish stewardship program held at the Round Table Restaurant, Friday evening.

Members of the stewardship committee in charge of the arrangements were Will Seim, Virginia Turcano, Diana Sulya all of Collinsville and Rachel Larsen, of Granite City.

Circle hears Mrs. Lane

Truth Circle of Nidringhaus United Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Kathleen Offit, 2419 Cleveland Blvd., on its October meeting.

Shirley Lane called the meeting to order, and gave the lesson from a devotional book by Hollis O. Swisher entitled "Show Jesus Your Hands."

"In dealing with the lesson, the folded hands—folded in fervent and sincere prayer to the Lord; open hands—eagerly reaching out to join others in the work of the Kingdom of Jesus Christ. Mrs. Lane followed the lesson with a prayer."

Mrs. Offit gave a short devotional from the book "God Loves My Kitchen Best" entitled, "Parallel Parking." The lesson from The Least Coin was the story of Naomi and Ruth, from the Book of Ruth, given by Mrs. Sharon Ellebracht.

Experts from the executive committee meeting of the society were presented. Members were reminded of the October general meeting with the program to be presented by the youth of the church under the direction of Michael Lofus.

Final plans and preparation is being made for the annual bazaar to be held on Friday, Nov. 14, at the church. A visitation is planned by members of the Women's Society to the United Methodist Village in Lawrenceville, Ill., sometime after the bazaar.

Mrs. Offit served refreshments to Mesdames Sharon Ellebracht, Dorothy Frohardt, Wanda Grodzinski, Maxene Hacke, Evelyn Hamrick, Shirley Lane, Jan Livingston, Gladys Wallace, Betty Williams, Pearl Campbell.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Gladys Wallace, 1531 Clark Ave., in November.

Shade trees is club topic

A program on the habits of shade trees was presented by Mrs. John McComis at a meeting of the Garden Study Club, last week, hosted by Mrs. Nick Pettilio in her home.

The meeting opened with members reciting the club collect in union and roll call was recorded as each one spoke on their favorite tree.

Tentative plans were made to attend a flower show at Fairview Heights.

The hostess served luncheon prior to the meeting to those named and to Mesdames Norma Crenshaw, Wilma Wintrie, Bob Stouff, C. E. Eads, and Clonnam C. Eads.

MRS. THOMPSON RETURNS HOME

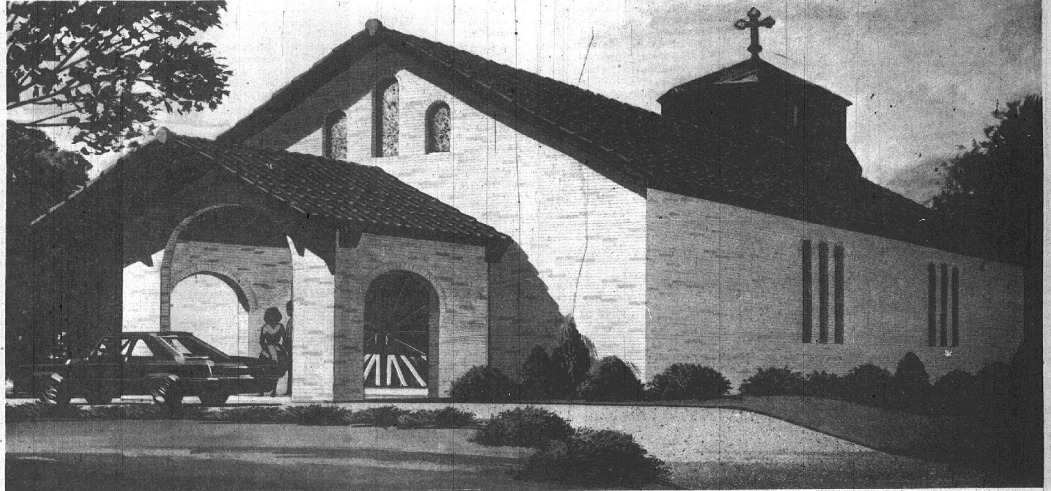

Mrs. Malcolm Thompson of Pontoon Beach, has returned to her home following a three-week vacation trip to Bedford, Texas.

While there she was the houseguest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Barcus and family.

Kelly, Michael and Robert.

Others attending were Mrs. Florio, Batsan and Mrs. Julia Portell.

SS. CYRIL AND METHODY. Eastern Orthodox Church, shown in this architectural sketch, will be constructed at 4800 Maryville Road. The traditional dome, covered with metal and mosaic, dominates the 38-by-70 feet brick structure and a 20 feet square front canopy. About 125 attended a groundbreaking ceremony and blessing of the building site this week, with Eastern Orthodox Bishop Kyril of Toledo, Ohio, officiating. Weather permitting, the edifice should be completed within three months. Bill Pisturi of Highland is the architect. Ralph Korte Construction Co. is the general contractor, with Dimitri Zonia, a St. Louis artist, designing the interior. Estimated cost of the building is $240,000.

HANDICRAFT SALE, sponsored by the Word of Life Tabernacle Church, will feature such items as handmade afghan quilts, aprons, Christmas ornaments and handpainted plaques. The event will take place from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday outside Schnuck's Market, 3801 Nameoki Road. Shown here from left to right are Neva Lucas, Marcie Duncan, Thelma Rushing and Betty Gay, project chairman.

Retired teachers review legislation

Miss Lucinda Huck of Granite City, legislative chairman for Madison County Unit 3 Illinois Retired Teachers' Association, discussed House Bill 1009 at the fall meeting of the group held at Roustio's Restaurant.

Miss Huck noted the bill would have granted increases in pensions to teachers who had retired before 1976 but Governor James Thompson has vetoed the bill.

She also reported the governor had used his veto on House Bill 3205 which would have changed the circuit breaker from $10,000 to $12,000 and instead offered fuel assistance for senior citizens. This means both bills, in amended form, will have to go before the assembly again, Miss Huck added.

Guest speaker for the day was Mrs. Emma Schoen, regent of Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the Daughter's of the American Revolution.

She gave a talk on genealogy and explained how to make a search for ones ancestors. Mrs. Schoen distributed forms to aid those in recording data.

Miss Hazel Towery, president, welcomed 55 retired teachers attending which included 33 from Granite City.

She noted the unit includes retirees from Highland, Collinsville, Troy, Marine, Madison, Venice and Granite City.

Other officers for the year are Dorothy Frohardt, treasurer, Mabel Stewart, corresponding secretary, both of Granite City; Margaret Hart, of Troy, first vice-president, Virginia Gillespie, Collinsville, second vice-president; Martha Linenfeller, Marine, recording secretary, and E. Paul Lyon, Highland, the immediate past president.

All retired teachers are welcome to attend the meetings which are four times a year, but reservations must be made in advance, the president said. The next session is set for Feb. 6 and anyone interested in attending is advised to contact one of the officers.

MRS. EBLING HOSTS BUNKO ETTES CLUB

Mrs. May Ebling, 2910 Denver St., entertained members of the Bunko Ettes Club last week.

Prizes in the evening games were awarded to Mesdames Helen Lipchik, Ruth Partney, Leona Delaloye, Rose Drube and the hostess.

Others attending were Mrs. Florio, Batsan and Mrs. Julia Portell.

MRS. WALKENBACH IS CLUB HOSTESS

Mrs. Theresa Walkenbach, 2916 Edwards St., entertained the Monday Afternoon Card Club, in her home this week.

Prize winners included Mesdames Margaret Richardson, Grace Henrich, the hostess and Myrtle Bruns.

Others attending were Mesdames Marie Perry, Marvel Clover, Agnes Garin and Leona Parente. Mrs. Bruns will host the next gathering.

Youth serving elderly program is successful

The summer program of Y.E.S. (Youth for Elderly Services) has proven highly successful, with more than 400 requests for services completed during the period, according to Don Young, youth counselor.

Services performed by the young people were window washing, lawn mowing, gutter cleaning and preparation of gardens for planting. The response from senior citizens was "overwhelming" and has carried over to requests for similar services during the winter months, according to Young.

The counselor said with students being in school from the fall through the spring months, the number of requests for assistance which can be accepted must be reduced.

Applications were mailed out to those eligible and already more than 200 requests have been received, Young stated. As a result, applications for winter services can no longer be accepted, he said.

"We are striving more for the quality of work (performed) rather than the quantity," he explained.

The summer Y.E.S. program sponsored here covered the areas of Granite City, Madison, Venice, Pontoon Beach, Mitchell and Eagle Park.

Y.E.S., a brand new youth employment program organized through the Youth Department, Office of Manpower Development (CETA), employed youth from the communities to do outside work for senior residents and disabled persons living on fixed income.

Earlier this year, Granite City Fire Department emergency medical technicians and firefighters (Local 253) presented a $700 donation to provide vegetable seeds and plants used by the elderly to plant gardens.

A total of 170 youths, between the ages of 14 and 19, participated in the summer Y.E.S. program and in Operation Turn-Around, a special work experience program designed to serve the needs of juvenile offenders.

Those taking part in the Turn-Around segment were paid to work part-time and also attend weekly educational workshops.

About 25 young people will be employed through the winter Y.E.S. Program, Johnson advised.

Predicts changes in savings & loans soon

Pressures on savings and loan associations to use new investment powers was discussed by Richard C. May, president of Illinois Federal Savings and Loan Association, at the 101st Annual Convention of the Illinois Savings and Loan League, held in Atlanta, Ga.

In his opening address, May pointed out that home finance institutions will be facing many pressures in the coming years. One pressure, as pointed out previously by financial spokesmen, is how each institution will evolve and make the transition to the new investment powers granted by the federal Depository Institutions Deregulation and Monetary Control Act of 1980.

Financial institutions have three principal avenues of evolution—to become "one-stop" family financial centers offering NOW Accounts (interest-bearing checking accounts), savings, and consumer and mortgage loans; to become mortgage banking companies involved in financing various real estate loans with funding primarily from the capital secondary market or to continue in the present mode of operation as a classical savings and loan, acquiring savings only and making local home loans.

A second pressure, May continued, was the relearning process which all financial institutions will undergo as they learn to compete in a new unregulated environment as mandated by the federal Monetary Control Act.

Finally, financial institutions will face the unenviable position of being on the threshold of the largest home financing job since the end of World War II, but suffering from a rapidly declining national savings rate, compounded by inflation. Despite these pressures, May concluded, the savings and loan industry will adapt and emerge stronger than ever with many new services to offer consumers.

At the end of the convention, May was presented with a League Superior Medalion and an engraved plaque to commemorate his year of service as president of the League.

Stolen auto recovered

The 1979 Mercury Cougar automobile of Christine Farrell, 17 Melvin Drive, which was stolen on June 23, while parked at the First National Bank, was recovered last week by the St. Louis Police Department. According to the report the car was found at 2601 N. Broadway and was towed to Madison County Mutual Insurance Co., Edwardsville, who are now the owners of the vehicle.

The St. Louis police have arrested a suspect for questioning in relation to the theft.

South kickers hold on, upset Vianney

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor of the Press-Record

ST. LOUIS — Granite City South made a believer of Mike Villa, head soccer coach at St. Louis' Vianney High, watched as his Golden Griffins were ousted from the prestigious C.Y.C. Soccer Tournament by South 1-0 in what could be termed an upset. Vianney was seeded first in the tournament, South seventh. South will face DuBois, a 2-overtime winner on penalty kicks yesterday over Aquinas, Friday at 4 p.m. in a semifinal. In the other semifinal, DeSmet, which upset Rosary 1-0 yesterday, will face St. Mary's.

South's Warriors made a goal by Don Cook midway through the first half stand up, partly by shifting into a 4-1 defensive alignment in the second half, with All-American forward David Fernandez shifting to sweeper back. "It's the first time we've used that alignment," said South coach Gene Baker. "But we've been working on it. After we got the lead, we wanted to make sure nothing broke down in the backfield. We wouldn't be above using it again if we have to."

"It was a good win for us," said Baker. "It's the first time we've ever beaten Vianney." South has an overall record of 1-2 against the Griffins. The dust from the Forest Park field didn't settle for two hours.

Cook scores as Warriors advance in C.Y.C. Tourney

South took the early territorial advantage, and it appeared to surprise Vianney. South was beating the Griffins to the ball, something that hadn't happened to the St. Louis team much this season.

But despite their early dominance, the Warriors couldn't find the inside of the goal. Partly because of Vianney goalie Tom Buske and partly because of a sticky Vianney backfield. That is, until the 20:53 mark of the half. That's when Cook scored what turned out to be the game-winner. It started from a corner kick by South's Tony Segobiano into a mass of players in front of the Vianney goal. Cook finally took control and pushed it past Buske over the goal line and into the far left hand corner of the goal.

"Really, the best chances by both teams didn't go in," said Baker. "We had better scoring chances later, but didn't score."

Two of those chances came late in the game, after the Warriors had shifted into their new defensive alignment. Robbie Mann had the Vianney defense beaten after taking a long pass from

Fernandez, but kicked the ball too hard and it sailed inches over the cross bar. Moments later, Mann took a cross pass from a teammate and headed the ball inches wide to the left of the goal. Aside from Mann's two chances, however, Vianney had the rest of the chances in the second half. But the Griffins couldn't penetrate the Warrior defense or beat South goalie Joe LeMaster. "Joe played his best game of the season, I think," said Baker. "He wasn't too busy in the first half, but in the second, he had to do a lot of traffic directing and come up with some key saves."

One save he didn't have to come up with came at the 25:24 mark when Vianney's Tom Hylla boomed a direct free kick from about 20 yards out to LeMaster's right. Had the ball been down two feet more, it would've tied the score.

A save LeMaster did make, but didn't really have to, came on the last play of the game. As the seconds ticked off, Vianney was making a final rush. John Maurer boomed one from 15 yards from the left of the goal just as the referee blew the whistle indicating the end of the game. LeMaster leaped as high as he could and tipped the ball over the crossbar. Referees later said that had the ball gone in, the goal would not have counted. It came too late.

"I'm happy to win because we get to play two more games against tough competition. Vianney's a well-coached team with good size and good speed. They'll be back in time for the Missouri State Tournament."

"I don't think this win makes us cocky," he said. "The players know what they have to do."

Vianney outshot South 15-13, but South had the edge in corner kicks 7-3. Vianney got its first corner kick with less than 10 minutes remaining in the game. LeMaster made eight saves for South, while Buske came up with four for Vianney. South was called for 19 fouls, Vianney for 18. If South wins Friday, it will face the winner of the DeSmet-St. Mary's game Saturday night at 7 at Vianney. If the Warriors lose, they'll face the loser of the other semifinal at 5:30 p.m. Saturday at Vianney. The victory raised South's record to 14-1-1.

Steelers get different view in win over East

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The regular starting eleven of the Granite City North varsity soccer squad got an unusual perspective on the first half of their game Monday at home against Belleville East.

From the bench. Finally bowing to parent and fan criticism, North coach Bob Kehoe started many of the players who haven't seen much action this season. At halftime, North trailed East 1-0. The regulars entered the game in the second half ranting to go and start the second eleven. The tactic is a departure from Kehoe's basic philosophies.

"I tell kids before the season starts that the best of the game. They were fired up for the second half. 'You know how it goes,' Kehoe added. 'Kids and parents come up to me every day and complain about so-and-so not getting to play much. I finally decided to let the regulars sit on the bench and start the second eleven.' The tactic is a departure from Kehoe's basic philosophies."

players will be out there playing for me. I don't do a rash of substituting unless we're way ahead. It's just not the way I coach. They're told that if they can't accept that, they should quit then. But everybody gets an equal chance to prove himself. In any case, the victory for North couldn't have come at a more opportune juncture in the schedule. Following tough losses at the hands of Granite South and Collinsville late last week, the Steelers needed a shot in the arm. "Maybe I should have done the same thing against Collinsville," Kehoe said. "They players could have gotten a better overall view of what was going on. But that's water under the bridge."

Actually, East never was able to mount much of a scoring attack, except for a few rushes in the first half. One of those resulted in the Lancers' only goal. It came on a penalty kick. Mike Donovan was pulled down by

Monahan could be one of area's top prep booters

By TOM SCHOCKER

Sports Editor of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY —

Sometimes good athletic talent is not discovered until it's almost too late. That ability could remain dormant well into the high school years and occasionally never emerge. That's the kind of situation that could have happened on the Granite City South football team, if it wasn't for the keen eye of head coach Stan Wojcik. With almost nothing going right for the Warriors this season, their kicking game has been a bright spot in an otherwise dismal year.

Although South record is 0-

5, the Warriors have nonetheless been in a number of games because of their punting and field goal kicking. The last art has been picked up again by the leg and foot of senior Bruce Monahan.

"Last year Bruce won a ball game for us when he kicked a 35 yard field goal against O'Fallon," said Wojcik. "And besides that, he was averaging 42 yards a punt as a punter last year. He's got a good foot and the distance. When he kicks the ball, it's quick and has good height, which makes it difficult to block. It's a lot different than the soccer style." Monahan's also left-footed.

The effort and performance Monahan has put forth this season has earned him some unexpected recognition. "I wasn't really expecting it," said Monahan, "but I have gotten letters from about six colleges. They have said that they like the way I kick and even two of them want to come and look at me." Monahan's abilities have drawn the attention of Missouri, Wisconsin, Army, Vanderbilt, Baker University in Kansas and an Iowa junior college.

"The opportunity is there," said Wojcik. "He is capable of going as far as he wants. He just has to develop more of a consistency. But this is all a matter of concentration. College will help him remember that. He'll get individual help there and it will make him a better kicker."

Monahan can be thankful for that individual help, because if it wasn't for Wojcik, he might not be the type of kicker he is now. "I don't know what I would have done, if it wasn't for Coach Wojcik," said Monahan. "He started working with me in my junior year and put me right in as a kicker. He believed in me and had confidence."

But it wasn't until Monahan's junior year, that Wojcik found out he had a talented kicker. "We just felt it out," said Wojcik. "You see, he didn't go out for football in his sophomore year and we practiced with him the next year and he got better as the season went along."

And when did Bruce realize that he the knack of kicking a football down the field? "My brother was the one that told me I had a pretty good foot," said Monahan. "That was when I was playing football at Prather in seventh grade. My brother was a field goal kicker when he was playing for South and my dad played football. So they're the ones that kept telling me I had a chance."

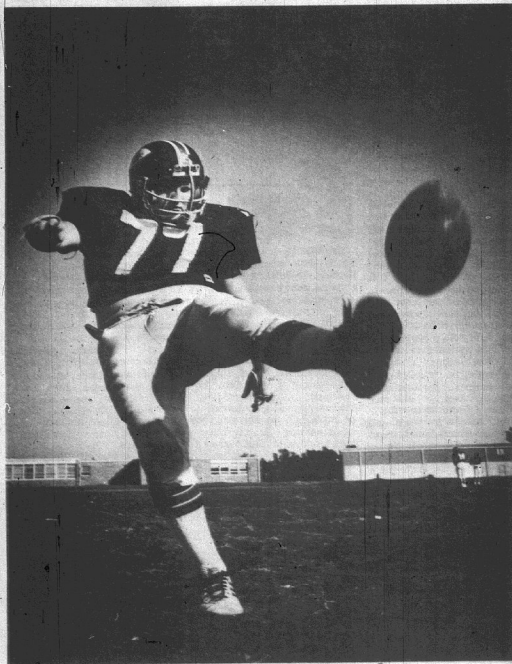

Well, Monahan got his chance and he certainly made the best of it. But there is one aspect of Monahan's ability that might be a little misleading — his physical structure. He doesn't look like a place kicker. Monahan stands at six foot and tips the scale around 220 pounds. That's what throws off the other opponents.

"It makes him stronger," said Wojcik. "He has a strong, quick leg and steps into the ball with a great amount of power. And he's quick for his size. When he unloads on a punt, you can see why he's back there."

Size doesn't really bother Monahan either. "I think I'm pretty fast for my size," he said. "And I feel I'm just as good as anyone else." Which has to be proven in a number of ways, because he also plays defense and works on the defensive line.

Proving his ability has been taken as a week to week affair with the Warriors. Wojcik feels that a kicker should earn a starting job.

Dons are mad about latest NCAA soccer poll

EDWARDSVILLE — The members of the University of San Francisco soccer team, from their verbose and highly opinionated coach, Steve Negoesco, on down, were fighting mad Tuesday when the latest national collegiate soccer rankings were flashed across the United States.

Dumped, for the first time in four weeks, were the San Francisco Dons from their No. 1 position atop the rankings. In front are the Bulldogs of Alabama A & M, by one point, 366 to the Dons' 345.

Alabama, judging from reports received in Edwarsville, is somewhere between a top-flight pro eleven and a World Cup contender. That's how good they're touted to be.

Both Alabama and the Dons have identical 9-0 records. Each has awesome offensive power. The Bulldogs, recent newcomers to the ranks of collegiate soccer, have yet to prove themselves in NCAA Division I competition, while San Francisco has won four of the last six NCAA titles. But, aside from their chagrin and anger over their loss of rank in the poll, the Dons have another thing to prove: that the Cougars' 4-2 victory over San Francisco in the finals of the NCAA quarterfinal tourney last November was a fluke and that they, not SUE, should have been the winner at Tampa, Fla.

Negoesco, never a shrinking violet and quick with the quip, is confident about his current team. He feels strongly that this edition of the Dons is "as good, if not better, than the 1978 title team."

He added in an interview Tuesday: "We have much better depth, our 'keeping' is stronger and we are a much hungrier team. The only thing that I'm concerned about, at this stage, is that we won't play as many games this season as in past years."

In 1977, when the seniors of this year's Cougar squad (then freshmen) came within inches of upsetting San Francisco in the NCAA national semis at California, Coach Bob Guelker and Negoesco exchanged barbs at a pre-tourney dinner meeting.

The Dons will battle it out with the Bulls on St. Louis University's home field, Francis Field, Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Roseman continues to add to his trophy case

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press Record
GRANITE CITY —
Looking around the room, you notice a number of trophies gathered on various shelves. Turning your attention to the man seated in front of you, the association of this lean, sporting figure and his accomplishments are clear.

The latest collection prizes are in the form of three gold medals and one silver. But there is a substantial difference between the time at which the medals were won and the first trophy was won.

The first trophy was won in 1939, a time when Art Roseman was in the prime of his life at 42. But the latest collection came only a week and a half ago. Mr.
Roseman is now 83 years old.
Roseman was a participant in the 5th Annual Senior Olympics held in Springfield, Ill., Sept. 26-28.
He proved that he's never too old to play athletics, as he entered four events and came away with three gold and one silver medal.

What could draw Roseman in his late stage of life to pick up with athletics? "I still wanted to see if I could still do it," said Roseman with a chuckle. "It was for my own satisfaction. You know, to bolster my ego."

Roseman did exactly that and then some. Advancing from the Regional Meet held this spring at St. Louis, Edwardsville to the finals at Springfield, he entered the events in which he felt he had substantial experience. "I made it to the finals by beating 70 year olds," said Roseman, "so I took four events which I thought I could win."

Taking on the one mile walk race, 50 meter run and the standing long jump, Roseman felt he was prepared. "I worked out all summer," said Roseman. "I would go to the high school track at 7 a.m. three days a week. For strength, I would walk three miles a day. I marked an area around my generical vicinity. It usually took me around 42 minutes to finish." Four and a half miles an hour is not too bad for an 83 year old.

In the mile walk, Roseman finished with a time of 12:33.
"I didn't know I finished until well after the race was over. I carried a stopwatch with me while I walked and after the first two laps I thought I had gone too fast," said Roseman. "My first was 46". I didn't want to jump too far at first. I saw I had to beat 46" and I knew I could beat that, so I jumped 52". I didn't even take my third jump, because I still had to run the 50 meter. Count it anyway, for gold number two.

Still another hour wait and Roseman breezed through a field to take the 50 meter run at 10.4 seconds. With an enthusiastic grin, he said, "I saw a man coming up on me in the race and I poured on the steam." It was complete, gold number three.
Roseman's lone silver medal came in bowling. "I bowl three times a week," said Roseman. "I enjoy that every night of the week, except for Saturday in which I reserved that for family."

Roseman has a Scout Master for 28 years. He felt that this type of exercise would be good for him after he had retired from work and his wife had passed away. "I am all alone in my house," said Roseman, "and it was something for me to do." Roseman used to run 10 miles after work when he was younger. He started working when he was just 14

Young runners hold off Virgin in race

ST. LOUIS — It was a day for future running stars to taste the glory of victory as an 11-year-old and a 9-year-old crossed the finish line at Busch Stadium ahead of American record holder, the Craig Virgin in the Second Annual Natural Light Stadium Run, Sunday.

The winner, Wesley Paul, a sixth grader, from Overland Park, Kansas, used his 10-minute head start in the handicap race to beat the field of 2,240 runners in the 6.2-mile run. The race was the largest single running event in St. Louis.

Right behind Wesley was Steven Heifetz, a student at Glenridge Elementary school in Clayton, who finished second ahead of Virgin. Steven, the son of Mr.
and Mrs. Gary Heifetz, had a 15-and-one-half-minute head start on Virgin who ran the course in 30:15.

"It was just too much time to make up on a young runner like Wesley Paul who is nationally ranked," Virgin said. "These kids are getting too good."

"The handicap race also favored the master runners as evidenced by 65-year-old Larry Patterson of St.
James, Mo., who finished fourth, one-place higher than his finish in last year's run.

The fastest woman runner was Penny Galogly, 33, of St.
Louis who came in fifth. Her 12-year-old son Devon wasn't too far behind, finishing 11th.

Wesley, who began running for fun when he was 3-and-one-half years old, is no field runner to competition.
He ran his first race at age seven and earlier this year
won the Kirkwood Ring Tree 1.8-mile event for runners of all ages without any time handicap.

This is the biggest race I have ever won," Wesley said. "I knew that Craig
Would be running and I set my sights on trying to beat him."

But, Virgin never did catch Wesley who took the lead over Steven Heifetz at the four-and-a-half-mile mark and never lost it.

"I thought I was leading at the four-mile marker,"

Wesley said, "and then the crowd kept yelling that I could catch him. I turned on the speed and passed Steven."

Virgin, who won the race
last year, was not the only one who had trouble passing the young runners. His former University of Illinois teammate David Walters, 25, of Champaign, Ill., who also is an All-American runner, came in sixth with an actual time of 31 minutes flat.

"The handicap format which features a staggered start based on the age and sex of the runner makes this race different from others and more fun for those who normally don't have a chance to win," said Tom Eckelman, race director and a member of the St. Louis Track Club, which co-sponsored the race.

The course started outside Busch Stadium and concluded on the baseball diamond.

Bronze Boot is set

ST. LOUIS — In a move to bolster its chances of setting an all-time attendance record for a collegiate soccer game, Anheuser-Busch, Inc., announced today the scheduling of a performance by the contemporary music group Air Supply before the start of the Oct. 30 Bronze Boot match between St. Louis University and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The Tenth Annual Bronze Boot contest will kick off at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 30, at Busch Memorial Stadium here. A one-hour pre-game performance by Air Supply, whose hit singles include such popular songs as "All Out of Love" and "Lost In Love," is set for 6:30 p.m.

Butwieser, the flagship brand of Anheuser-Busch, to whose support for the Bronze Boot game and for soccer in general is unequalled, has made possible the first St. Louis appearance of Air Supply.

Soccer fans and music fans alike will surely get their money's worth from this year's Bronze Boot match. In fact, most of those in attendance will have purchased their tickets in advance for $2, for which they'll be witnessing one of the hottest soccer rivalries on the collegiate level as well as a concert performance which, by itself, would cost anywhere from $6 to $10.

The game's sponsor, Anheuser-Busch, earlier had announced company president Dennis J. Long's desire to set a collegiate soccer attendance record in St. Louis. The world's largest brewer, therefore, has channeled its marketing effort toward that end, with the Air Supply performance.

Groups interested in taking part in the fund-raising opportunity by selling 250 or more tickets to the October 30 soccer game may call Father Lawrence Walsh at the Catholic Youth Council office at 371-4880.

Alton continues to dominate

EDWARDSVILLE — The Alton High cross country team continued its dominance of the Madison County Meet here Tuesday, winning this year's edition easily.

Alton finished with 35 points. Granite City South was second with 72, followed by Highland with 106 points. Granite City North with 109, Collinsville 133, Triad 139, Wood River 191, Edwardsville 196 and Roxana 231. Bethalto did not field a complete team.

Gary Chappell of Alton was the individual medalist over the three-mile course with a time of 15:46. South's Jeff Taylor was the highest Granite City finisher in fourth place with a time of 16:27. Kerry Schaefer of Granite North was 11th in 16:50. North's Bruce DeRuntz was 14th in 17:05. South's Dave McLean was 15th in 17:06. South's Jim McQuaid was 16th in 17:07 and Ron Brown of South was 17th in 17:09.

In the girls meet, Granite South finished second to the annual Alton Invitational run Friday.

49 points to South's 66. Ruth Tschannen of Highland was the individual winner over the 2.4 mile course in a time of 13:14. Mary Bish of South was third in 13:50. North's Tami McCann was seventh in 14:41. Mary Romine of South was 10th in 15:05. South's Kathy Juhasus was 12th in 15:13. Granite North did not field a complete team.

In the freshman-sophomore division, Granite North's Steelers were edged out of first place by Triad, 59-60. Highland was third with 100 points, followed by Edwardsville with 103. Granite South 133 and Collinsville 146. No other schools entered complete teams.

Singler of Triad was the individual trophy winner with a time of 11:22. North's Robertson was fifth for the Steelers with a time of 12:11. Meyers of North was ninth in 12:34. South's Gary Earhart was 10th in 12:42.

Both Granite City North and South will be entered in the annual Alton Invitational run Friday.

South remains in number one spot

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City South soccer team bolstered its hold on the number one position in the Press-Record press soccer poll this week with a pair of victories over Alton and Edwardsville.

South's victory over powerhouse, in the annual Catholic Youth Council Tournament, The Warriors (14-1) beat University City 1-0 Monday and then upset top-seeded Vianney 1-0 Tuesday afternoon in Forest Park. South, which has bested the number one team all season, received all five first place votes.

Collinsville extended its second-place lead over Granite City North this week, partly because of the Kahoka victory over the Steelers Saturday in Granite City. Granite City North remained in third place.

Quincy held onto the fourth place position for the second

Monahan

"The competition has been good," said Wojcik. "We just found our other kicker, Mike Zikovich, two weeks ago, and Bruce has responded to the competition. It kind of pushes him and this week he has been kicking a lot better. And who would know how well he has been ripping into the pignik other than the coach? His holder, of course, Sophomore quarterback John Linhart has the job of holding the snap for Monahan. "He's a good kicker," said Linhart. "Of all the other ones I've seen, he's one of the best. We seem to work well together." But there were a lot of problems earlier in the season. "John does an excellent job now," said Monahan, "but he had some holding problems in the beginning of the year. This is his first year on the varsity and I think he was a little nervous. He didn't know how to catch the ball and spin it, so I wouldn't kick the seasons. The ball won't fly as far with the seams pointing at you. But Coach Wojcik worked with us and John's got it down now." Linhart's ability to master the proper holding technique could help Monahan find a place on a major college football squad. Monahan's booming kicks "just have a little something to do with it too."

An effort like the one he has put forth deserves a rest. He may not be superman, but you would also have to think how superman would compare with good health," said Roseman, "which I can thank the good Lord for that. If my health keeps up, I'll try again. I'm no superman, I still get really tired. Not so much after competing, but after I sit down for about 30 minutes or so." With a final smug look, he added, "After that I can't get back up."

back in 1912 in the painting and decorating business. Sixty-six years later he decided to sell out. You can say Roseman is a native of Granite City, but that would be an understatement. He has been living here since 1903.

"We used to work out with all the track and field equipment there is," said Roseman. "We also kidded around, saying if we could, we'd be doing this stuff when we got old. Until May, I hadn't run that long for 40 years."

With the strong determination that Art Roseman has, you can probably catch him at the 6th Annual Senior Olympics. "I have been fortunate with good health," said Roseman, "which I can thank the good Lord for that. If my health keeps up, I'll try again. I'm no superman, I still get really tired. Not so much after competing, but after I sit down for about 30 minutes or so." With a final smug look, he added, "After that I can't get back up."

He may not be superman, but you would also have to think how superman would compare with good health," said Roseman, "which I can thank the good Lord for that. If my health keeps up, I'll try again. I'm no superman, I still get really tired. Not so much after competing, but after I sit down for about 30 minutes or so." With a final smug look, he added, "After that I can't get back up."

Steamers add three

ST. LOUIS — General Manager Tracey Lettewick has announced the signing of three more St. Louisans to the 1980-81 edition of the St. Louis Steamers of the Major Indoor Soccer League.

Veteran defender Sam Bick returns for his second season with the club. He has signed a one year contract with an option clause. "Sam is one of our best defenders and we're happy to have him signed," said Coach McBride. "He's aggressive, hard nosed and a team player. His year's experience will help."

John Stremian, a mid-fielder, has signed a one year contract and is on loan from the Houston Hurricane of the NASL. He begins his third season on the MISL, and was an All-Star selection last year for the Houston Summit. "John's record speaks for itself," noted McBride. "He's a great addition to our club."

Also signing from last year's squad is keeper Eric Delabar, having signed a one year contract with an option.

Steelers
the North defense inside the penalty area and made good on his resulting penalty kick at the 10:30 mark.

In the second half, it was all North. Steve Trittschuh got things started for the Steelers at the 50:17 mark. Lee Gavlick, about 10 yds off the right sideline, passed the ball in the air across the mouth of the goal to Trittschuh who came out of the midfield to jump high in the air and flick the ball in. "I thought it was a beautiful play," said Kehoe. "Trittschuh can really get up in the air."

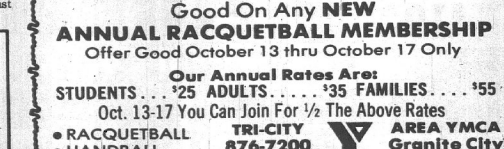

North's second goal, while perhaps not as dramatic, was just as skillfully scored. Craig Burkey, taking a pass from teammate Dan Ritchie, touched the ball once to beat an East defender, followed the ball around him, went in on the East goalie and scored. It came at the 66:35 mark.

The third goal was all teamwork. Barrington and Seales — they would know where the other's going to be on the field even if blindfolded. Barrington took the ball all the way to the end line where he passed it through the goal mouth to Seales who faked a shot to lose a defender and then pushed the ball into the goal at the 69:51 mark.

Next up for North is a rematch with Gateway East Conference rival Edwardsville. The Tigers tied the Steelers 2-2 the first week of the season in Edwardsville. "The game probably doesn't have as much bearing on the conference race since our two losses to South," said Kehoe. "But there's a matter of pride to the kids." In their earlier meeting with North, the Tigers scored a last-minute goal to force a game into scoreless overtime periods.

"I'll be interested to see how we play them on a bigger field," said Kehoe. On the East goalie and scored. It came at the 66:35 mark. The third goal was all teamwork. Barrington and Seales — they would know where the other's going to be

EMERGENCY LOCKING devices on top of a non-pressurized tank car used to haul such substances as molasses are, left to right, Ernie P. Bernhauser, fire prevention superintendent, Illinois Central Gulf Railroad, Venice Fire Chief William Meehan and George Smolich, Granite City's assistant fire chief. An increasing number of emergency incidents throughout the nation involving hazardous materials of various types prompted the seminar at the Granite City Army Installation. Taking part from Madison and St. Clair counties were police, fire and sheriff's departments, civil defense, private industry, four railroads, port authority, truck transport companies, U. S. Corps of Engineers, Coast Guard, fleet services and representatives from the Department of Transportation.

CHECKING PRESSURIZED railroad tank car to learn methods of handling hazardous contents are participants in the Hazardous Materials Handling seminar presented last week at the Granite City Army Installation by the Granite City Police Department, in conjunction with the Granite City Fire Department, Emergency Services and Disaster Agency of Granite City and other public protective agencies. Tank cars such as this are labeled according to their contents. Explaining the sealing valves is C. D. Bossard, Illinois Central Gulf Railroad's superintendent of hazardous materials, second from left, next to the Illinois State trooper. Controls in the caboose, at right, are inspected by others involved in the course. Forty-seven agencies, represented by a total of 120 persons, attended each of the two-day sessions.

IN LOVING memory of

ALEXANDER J.

ROZCYCKE, Oct. 11, 1975.

Your were a crown of patience, as you struggled on and on, and the hands that rest forever, are the hands

that were so strong. God

watched you while you

suffered, and he knew you had your share, he tenderly closed your weary eyes and took you in his care. — Sadly missed by Sisters and Family.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION

TO: GEORGE EATON
(FATHER OF TERRY D.
EATON, A MINOR) 80-J-425
and to All Whom It May Concern:

Take notice that on the 2nd day of October, 1980, a petition was filed under the Juvenile Court Act by Assistant State's Attorney
Dan Schattnik in the Circuit Court of Madison County entitled "In the interest of TERRY D. EATON, a minor", and that in circuit courtroom at Edwardsville on the 17th day of October at the hour of 1:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter as this cause may be heard, an adjudicatory hearing will be held upon the petition to have the child declared to be a ward of the court under that act. The court has authority in this proceeding to take from you the custody and guardianship of the minor, and to appoint a guardian with power to consent to adoption of the minor.

Now, unless you appear at the hearing and show cause against the petition, the petition may be taken for confessed as against you and each of you, and an order, judgment or decree entered.

WILLARD V. PORTELL,
Clerk

Dated October 2, 1980.
